About Callum & His Scholarship

Callum Nicholas Reid lived a life of integrity, good-heartedness toward the community, and honest ambitions. Though his path was not always easy, he found peace in technical fields from Agri-Science in high school to eventually training as a mechanic. After he tragically passed away in 2013, the Callum Nicholas Reid Memorial Scholarship was created with the mission to recognize the achievements of outstanding students in vocational and technical fields. This scholarship is not just awarded based on grades, but on honest ambition & integrity. The scholarship aims to be inclusive of all of the community, including those returning to education, just as Callum did. In this way, the scholarship hopes to give back to the entire community which provided unwavering support for the scholarship as well as for our entire family in our time of need. We also wish to let Callum's story reach beyond our community, with a second scholarship allowing outstanding students across the nation to receive the recognition they deserve in a field often overlooked by traditional scholarships. We aim to ensure Callum's short life continues to make a long-lasting impact on others.

Letter of Recommendation

Integrity is a characteristic consistently exemplified by Callum. Some define it as righteousness, morality, virtue, decency or sincerity. To others, it is undefinable; all of this and much more. It is important that we recognize a candidate that exemplifies integrity.

Please attach a letter of recommendation from a teacher, colleague, or any other member of your community. In 500 words or less, it should describe how you embody integrity, as well as the capacity in which that person knows you, any other information about your character or otherwise which they would like to include.

Essays

Please answer each of the below in 500 words or less and attach to the application. You may use these topics to discuss anything which you feel we may need to know.

1. Shortly before he passed away, Callum had a conversation encouraging a friend to not 'follow false ambitions' but to do what is true to your heart. Callum found the best way he could contribute to society was through helping his father and working as a trainee mechanic. What are your ambitions? How do you intend to contribute to society through technical or vocational training? How have you applied academics, extracurricular activities or work on your journey thus far?
2. Callum was thoughtful, caring, and considerate of all of those around him. His positive impact on society was not found in measured hours of community service, but in spending time with elderly neighbors, helping handicapped students down the hallway, and responding to his friends in their time of need. In what ways do you feel you have managed to positively impact the community?
